TERM THREE VALUES: PRIDE | FAIRNESS | EFFORT + COMMITMENT | EXCELLENCE

Room 73

Kia ora, Talofa Lava, Malo e lelei, Kia Orana, Bonjour and Welcome!

Welcome to Term Three. We've hit the halfway mark of the academic year at a pace that seems nothing short of rapid. The second term was truly a lively one, teeming with a host of different activities and events. It was truly heartwarming to see our students participating actively in STEAM education. I can't help but feel an enormous sense of pride for Room 73. A big thank you to all the whānau who joined us and showed their support! We also wrapped up our swimming programme as part of the PE curriculum. It was wonderful to see the students' enthusiasm, and they made excellent progress in the water.

As we set foot into the initial fortnight of Term Three, we are thrilled to announce the introduction of Module Seven, aptly titled "Adventurous." Our attention in these weeks will predominantly be on the United Nations Show and the Food Festival, a platform where students get the chance to immerse themselves in the cultures of varied nations through performances and culinary experiences. Furthermore, we've also arranged for the second iteration of the Student Involved Conference to take place 7th August. I would earnestly appreciate it if you could make some room in your busy schedules to attend this conference and discuss your child's progress since the onset of Term One. To ensure you get a time slot that suits your convenience, I would urge you to quickly schedule your appointments once the booking sheets are shared.
